Dear Martin

Braehead Foods Warehouse, Office & Cook School

We have now been in our purpose-built facility for just over three years and since then we have been able to meet the ever increasing demand for more quality game and fine food distribution and processing.

When we first met I only had a budget and building size in mind and thanks to you and your team you took my initial concept through all the design, planning, warrant and building stages to final completion and handing over the key!

You completed a fantastic development on budget and to programme and both my staff and I were delighted with the final building.

The whole process was dealt with professionally, efficiently and I had complete peace of mind that my day to day operations and business commitments could and indeed did continue uninterrupted.

I would have no hesitation in using your services again or recommending you to anyone considering building new premises.

Yours sincerely
